Frida Kahlo

FRIDA KHALO WAS A FAMOUS MEXICAN ARTIST.

Frida Kahlo didn't always want to be an artist, in fact she longed to be a doctor; she had studied medicine in school and was sure it was the right path for her.

However at the age of 18 she got into a terrible bus accident which meant she was unable to walk for three months. Whilst she was in hospital she used to paint in her hospital bed. It helped her pass the time and express her emotions.

Frida Kahlo

- Frida Kahlo was a Mexican painter. She is best known for her work showing women and experiences relating to women, and for her self portraits, often painted in naïve or primitive style.
- She was born in July, 1907 in Mexico City. At an early age she developed polio which meant that one of her legs was slightly longer than the other.
- The Mexican Revolution began on July 7th, 1910. Frida Kahlo later stated that her birth date was the same day, so that she could claim to be born on the same day as modern Mexico.
- In 1925, a tram collided with the bus she was on. Because of the accident, she had over 30 operations during her life and was never able to have

FRIDA KAHLO!

- Full name: Frida Kahlo, Magdalena Carmen Calderón
- Born: 6th July 1907
- Died: 13th July 1954
- Famous for: painting
- Nationality: Mexican
- Cause of death: pulmonary embolism

1. Frida Kahlo was a Mexican painter known for her many portraits, self-portraits and works inspired by the nature of Mexico. During her time as an artist, she employed a naive folk art to explore identity, class, gender, race and postcolonialism in Mexican society. Because of this discovery, Kahlo has been described as a Surrealist.

PAINTING!

2. She thought of the idea of becoming an artist when she suggested a bus accident at the age of eighteen, which caused her serious damage. To make all her problems disappear, she became an artist in 1925 that then led her to join the Mexican communist party in 1929. After that she then met another Mexican artist, Diego Rivera and soon got married in 1929. Together they travelled through Mexico and the U.S.A and painted different types of portraits with mixed elements of pre-Columbian and Catholic beliefs, which led to the formation of the interest of Surrealist artist, André Breton, who arranged a solo exhibition for her at the Julie Levy museum in New York.

3. When she and her husband Rivera moved to San Francisco in 1930, Kahlo was introduced to many artists like Edward Weston, Nikolas Murray, Ralph Stackpole and Timothy Folger. This was a very productive period in her artistic career when she developed the folk art style she had adopted in Cuernavaca. She used this style to create several new portraits of their wedding photographs and the portrait of Luster Burbank, which depicted the a poignant difference as a hybrid between a human and a plant.

4. When Kahlo returned to Mexico in 1934, she made no new paintings due to health complications. But in 1937 and 1938, Kahlo found these years very productive when she made lots of paintings including My Nurse and I (1937), Memory, the Heart (1937), you inhabitants of Mexico (1938) and Wat the water gave me (1938). Sadly in 1940, her placed exhibition was cancelled in London due to war which was a big loss in her career.

5. Kahlo sadly died in 1954, age 47, due to pulmonary embolism. Until the 1970s her work as an artist remained unknown. But when her work was found, she today is remembered as a famous artist.
